Review of Parliament

(By Thomas Weyling)

Ottawa, June 22.—The Bennett Budget to make Income Tax safe for the very rich, has met with immediate challenge, and the debate in the Commons has pierced its weaknesses, and worse than weaknesses, its oppression of those who toil with their hands and whose taxes have been greatly increased.

Hon. J. L. Ralston, former minister in the King Government, opened the attack being chief financial critic for the Opposition. It was not a political speech but a sane, common-sense dissection of a document which seems to have aroused general disapproval throughout Canada. In addition the Farmer-Labor group in parliament has made vigorous attacks on the Budget indicating that all shades of opinion not attached to the Government's chariot wheels, disapprove of Mr. Bennett's budget.

Mr. Bennett claimed that his budget was the first that had been delivered in years. He not only admitted it himself but insisted upon it. It gave figures which no other budget did. Col. Ralston however pointed out that what the country needed was taxation relief, employment and aid for the primary industries now suffering heavily.

The budget, said Col. Ralston included many things the people of Canada would have liked to have seen in it. For instance it included no surplus and Liberal budgets for years had shown surpluses. There was a surplus of $44,817,000 in 1927, of $67,000,000 in 1928, of $81,000,000 in 1929 and $44,000,000 in 1930. If Mr. Bennett had a deficit of $75,000,000. Then the Liberal budgets showed each year reductions in the national debt to the tune of $267,000,000 in five years. Mr. Bennett on the other hand had increased the National debt. Mr. Bennett had claimed economy, yet his estimates were $430,000,000 as against $440,000,000 of last year, when the Liberal budget also included the money for Unemployment and the Welland Canal.

Col. Ralston charged Mr. Bennett with bragging down a rich man's budget and laying the burden of taxation on those least able to bear it. One of the reasons Mr. Bennett would be unable to balance the budget was the cost of all the promises he made during the election, and he was not even fulfilling them in full, and many not at all.

Hon. W. D. Euler, former minister of National Revenue, tore the veil from what seems to be a sinister propaganda scheme to discredit the Canadian National Railways. He warned the government it was playing with fire to do such a thing. Mr. Bennett had by inference attacked the Canadian National while a new Conservative member from Stanstead, named Hackett had made two direct attacks on the Canadian National this session. Mr. Euler demanded the cessation of these attacks, declaring the people of Canada were more than satisfied with the progress of the Canadian National. The entire railway world was suffering from the present depression, and interests antagonistic to the National were taking advantage of the situation to spread propaganda against the system.

It might be advisable some day to further economise by eliminating the duplications as between the Canadian National and the Canadian Pacific by amalgamating the systems, as this would save about $100,000,000 a year. If this were done however, it must be a publicly owned system and not the handing over of the national to private interests.

Mr. Euler condemned the silly attitude of the government towards Russia, indicating that one excuse, that of saying that Russia was ungodly, scored of hypocrisy. It was folly to declare a tariff war with any country, even Russia.

Charles B. Howard, Lib. Sherbrooke also made an outstanding speech on the Budget. He dealt with actualities and scored the government for taxing the poor and giving the 25 mu tim

All Ready for the Big Day

Favored with good weather, next Wednesday, Dominion Day promises to be one of the biggest days ever staged in Raymond. No. 1 for its successful Stampede in years past and with Ray Knight, Veteran of many Stampedes and Wild West Shows Managing the afternoon events, this year there is the added attraction of the unveiling Ceremonies of the lovely new War Memorial. This fact will draw many people here, that otherwise may not come, and with the Stampede fair promises a crowd of 5,000 people for the day.

Commencing with a Monster Parade which from present indications promises to eclipse anything yet held here. The Parade will break up at the Memorial corner, and immediately, the Unveiling program will be commenced.

To add dignity to the proceedings, a detachment of Mounted Police will be here from Lethbridge to participate in the Parade and also the Unveiling, and may furnish a novelty or two in addition to this. The Salvation Army band is also expected to be in the Parade and probably at the Grounds! the afternoon.

To facilitate transportation the Greyhounds will be in operation all day to carry passengers and the train to Cardston will be held over until 6:30.

Road Work Is Started

Two road crews commenced work Monday on the road between the west boundary of town, and the Welland corner. There will be no time lost in this work, and as much as possible of the dirt will be moved between now and the first of July.

Dave Powelson started a crew on the east end of the stretch right at the jog, and Mr. Church, who has been working on the Cardston-Lethbridge road took a contract on the west end of the road. Approximately 5,000 yds. of dirt per mile will be moved in bringing the grade up to standard, and this will make it good and high and dry.

It is expected that as soon as the dirt work is finished and contracts can be arranged, that graveling will be done and the road kept up then to the standard of the other gravelled roads in the Province. That it will be appreciated by everyone goes without saying, and its benefit to the town and district will be inestimable.

Millionaires in Canada as much as $117,000,000 in relief in the taxes, to say nothing of the millionaires while taxing even oranges, and the foodstuffs of the poor. He condemned the sales tax increased, and gave specific instances of the injustice of the new tariff increases.

Mr. Bennett recently made great play with a list of new industries which had been established in Canada since he came into office. Mr. Howard pointed out that these amounted to about 107 in one year while the fiscal year of 1930 under the Liberal regime over 650 new firms started up in Canada and in 1929 over 750. He then proceeded to show just what Mr. Bennett had included. Of the three so-called new firms in Grandy, all had been established before the new government came into power, one having been established five years ago. A Stanstead country Co., had arranged to come in two years ago. A Sherbrooke Company referred to by the prime minister had established itself in Sherbrooke in April 1930 and was not even an American company but Canadian.

Every member who has spoken so far in criticism of the Budget has stressed the absence of any reference to unemployment. Member after member has urged the government to make known its policy for the year is half gone and nothing is being done. Labor members went further and told

Raymond High Illustrates Result of High Standard

DISTINGUISHED ALUMNI PROVE RIGID SYSTEM OF GRADING HAS RUN SUCCESSFUL

At this time of year attention is centered about our schools, because in times like these, we naturally examine critically everything we pay for to determine whether or not that thing is being paid too much for. At present the question is. Are our schools producing results worth their cost?

How can we judge the product, say of the Raymond High School? As to quantity it has an enviable record, having mounted from 63 students writing exams in 1926 to 129 in 1931.

The quality, however, is less easily measured. During the past four years records show that the unit percentage of passing has been 80 p.c. or better. Could a school be expected to do better? As bases upon which to judge the quality of the school, we might take efficiency, scholarship and leadership.

The efficiency of our alumni might be judged by the success they have achieved in teaching and in other occupations; their scholarship by the splendid marks gained at Normal, and at other high school and colleges, their leadership, by the prominent social positions they have held.

With pardonable pride we shall attempt to illustrate the results of this so far successful system of rigid grading and standardizing by giving space to only a small percentage of our R. H. S. Alumni who have continued to carry on this high standard by gaining distinction and honor after leaving the school.

The high school has had no fewer than 25 students attend Normal School in the past four years, each of whom has been successful as a teacher, and not one has been dismissed.

The outstanding records of these students listed below in efficiency, scholarship, and leadership tend to verify the statement that the system employed in the high school has proven successful. Our prominent alumni include: Leona Pack, She passed with very high teaching merits at Normal and since has taught four years receiving remarkable recommendations from the Inspector. Miss Pack has taught grade eight class here for the past year.

Riley Boyson, After leaving high school he attended the B.Y.U. for 3 years where he received very high marks in all his subjects.

Orvin Hicken. He was one of the very few who passed with high merits at Normal, where he was also school correspondent to both Calgary newspapers, a member of the provincial championship basketball team, and sports editor of the year book. Mr. Hicken is now principal of the Raymond Public School, one of the largest public schools in the province and has received a very high record from the Inspector.

Edna Hicken. At Normal he held the position of chairman of the Social Committee, and captain of the Championship basketball team. He has taught for 3 years with a very successful record.

Winnie Stone. She has had a high teaching record, also, having taught in the Raymond Public School for one year and a half.

Gerold Gibb. He was a member of the championship basketball team at Normal and has been Vice Principal of the Stirling Public School here he achieved an enviable record.

Emma Hicken. She is now teaching successfully at the Raymond Public School.

Muriel Webster. She is also teaching now in Raymond.

Araminto Earl. She was one of the first two honor students in the High School. At Normal she made a fine record and since has taught successfully for two years.

Reid Kirkham '26. At U. of U. in Salt Lake City, he gained distinction in Athletics. At Normal he was a member of the Basketball team, and he is now Vice-Principal of the Raymond Public School, receiving high grading from the Inspector.

William Blackmore '26. President of the Athletic Association and Captain of the Basketball Team at Normal. He has taught for 2 years and has achieved a remarkably high record for his teaching from the Inspector.

Welburn Van Orman '20. President of the Athletic Association at Normal, and has taught very successfully for the past year.

Kate Allred '28. One of the first two honor students at the R.H.S. She attended B.Y.U. in Provo, Utah for 2 years and gained very high marks in every subject.

Dean Poulsen. Dean achieved distinction at the East High School in Salt Lake City for his high scholarship.

Wayne Woolley '30. Mr. O. S. Longman, principal of the R.S.A. said: "In leadership and scholarship, Wayne has been one of the most outstanding students who ever attended the R. H. S. A." Wayne took two years in one at the R.S.A. and made extremely high marks in all his subjects. In addition, he won scholarships in animal husbandry and public speaking.

Alberta Johnson '30. She gained distinction and honor in dramatics at the school she is attending in Seattle, Wash., as well as an "A" average in her subjects.

Herma Pack '29. Miss Pack completed a difficult ten month course in eight months at the Garbutt Business College in Calgary and passed with the very highest honors. She is now working in the Bank of Montreal.

Orpha Vance. She gained honor and distinction for Raymond when she won the Southern Alberta Oratorical Championship. Miss Vance has taken part in several dramatic productions as well.

Gerald Snow, '30. Snow was President of his class, captain of the basketball team, and sports editor of the year book at Normal last year.

Hilda Coombs '30. She was Secretary of her class at Normal and gained high marks in her subjects.

Harris Walker, '30. He was one of the fastest players on the Normal Basketball team.

Alice Litchfield, '30. She was an honor student at the R. H. S. and Secretary of the Debating Club at Normal where she also gained a remarkable record in scholarship.

Could a school the size of the Raymond High School really be expected to produce an alumni who have gained greater distinction? And is it evident that the High School has maintained a high standard that has produced results worth its cost?

Our present high school staff and school board has labored unceasingly in the behalf of the students to produce such outstanding results as have been illustrated, and to the public we appeal for its earnest support in all measures the staff and school board adopt to maintain this standard.

To quote Mr. Blackmore "All together toiling and striving we can raise our standard to equal the best. I shall be contented with only the highest we can possibly attain."

Signed An Alumnus.

Special Meeting of Board of Trade

At a Canadian Camp in France

(Contributed by a returned man)

It happened one of those rainy winter evenings that seemed to be the usual thing in Northern France.

A soldier, returning to quarters, would have had hard work to find that long, low wooden hut for no lights were allowed under any circumstances. Once found and entered, he would find himself in an alley on each side of which were two rows of bunks, on above the other, extending unbroken for the length of the hut. The lights of the hut were candles; each man fueling one of his own as he required. Along the bunks men were polishing and cleaning or, if finished, amusing themselves with yarns, games of lying.

On this particular evening a little French Canadian from Calgary was turning his buttons and, as usual, singing. A jolly, carefree young chap this "no never took anything more serious necessary. But after a bit he grew soberfaced and then sang a song he all know:

"I Love you Canada,
For you mean so much to me.
I love your hills and valleys,
And your stately Maple tree.
I love all your dear people,
There after that they may be.
An when I think of Canada,
Think of home sweet home.
He had not sung more than the second line before every other voice in the hut was still. The head that was bent stopped and the games were dropped. For no heart in that hut but felt the surge of emotion that rose at the mention of the land they loved and grew so far away. At this close a quiet voice said, "will you give us that one more?" He did.

The singer lies beneath the poppies there in France; the land he loved and died for is ours. We do love that land: her hills and plains; her forests and streams are dear to us and to those who have returned, perhaps more than others, there are vivid memories of times when meeting a Canadian was meeting a friend for we know them to be a good people whose home is our home: that will always be to us home no matter where we go.

Southern Alberta Gilwell Scout Camp will open at Pass Creek in Waterton Park on July 2nd. Several local men will be present.

Born on Tuesday to Mr. and Mrs. V. H. Gaetz at the Gilt Hospital at Lethbridge, a baby girl. Mother and daughter are doing well.

The minutes of the last meeting were read and accepted and the correspondence was read and disposed of as follows:—

A letter was received from the World's Grain Exhibition and Congress, and the Membership enclosed for the Raymond Board of Trade.

It was decided to ask the C. P. R. to hold their passenger train on Dominion Day so that it would not leave Raymond until 6:30 p.m., and the Secretary was asked to write the officials regarding this matter.

A resolution was adopted that the Raymond Board of Trade use its influence to get a good showing of Raymond people to the Air Show at Cardston on Tuesday, June 30th, and that Cardston, Magrath and neighboring towns be especially invited to our Celebration on Dominion Day.

A letter was received from the Southern Alberta Beet Growers' re the lack of protection or encouragement in the Bennett Budget for the Sugar Beet industry, and a request that the Board of Trade send a wire to the minister at Ottawa urging the appointment over this and asking for subsidiary legislation to foster the industry. O. H. Snow was named as Chairman of a committee to word the letter on this subject.

Committee reports were then heard and discussed and the officials for the Celebration named where they had not already been chosen. The Parade Committee reported their expectation of the Biggest Parade ever held here, and stated that people were co-operating in fine style in this matter.

1867 CANADA 1931

"O Canada, our home our native land,
True patriot love in all thy sons
command;

With glowing hearts we see thee
rise,

The True North strong and Free,
And stand on guard, O Canada,
We stand on guard for thee;

O Canada, We stand on guard for thee.

Picture in your mind's eye the hand ful of men and the meagre thousands of people who constituted Canada at that Confederation in 1867, when the Dominion of Canada became a self-governing nation. Upper and Lower Canada, Nova Scotia and New Brunswick, and a very limited population.
To the west the wilderness, home of savage beasts and still more savage Indians. Contemplate the vision that actuated the Fathers of Confederation and the courage it required to ask for self-government for such a small handful of people, French and English mixed.

It is a far cry from that Dominion Day 64 years ago to the present group of nine healthy Canadian provinces, each with its own government, its own industries, its own problems, and yet all a part of that True North great and free that we all love to sing about.
The conquest of the rivers, the forests, the mountains and the Indians, and the colonization of the country is a history replete with tales of heroism, suffering, and final triumph of Right and Justice over every obstacle.
As Canadians we should appreciate our heritage.

Today we are living in peace, in contentment, and security, and because of these things and the rich resources and opportunities offered in Canada in practically every line of endeavor the eyes of the world are upon us as the land of opportunity. Continued peace, extensive periods of prosperity, quick recovery from depression, and an enviable name for British justice and fair play, has made Canada an Eden for the home seeker, and the Land of Golden Dreams for the home builder. Are not these things commendable and worthy of our very best as Canadian citizens.

On this, our National Day, while we enjoy ourselves in play and amusement, let us give a thought to the men and women who ploughed the land, laid the foundations of the Empire from sea to sea; and builded for more strength and solidity than they ever dared hope for.

FIRE BUSINESS SHOWS BIG INCREASE

The most encouraging business news heard for some time has just come from the Firestone Tire and Rubber Company who reports their profits for the first six months of its current fiscal year are double the earnings of the entire years of 1930.

Following a meeting of the Board of Directors of the Firestone Tire and Rubber Company, Harvey S. Firestone president, made the following announcement: "Net profit of the Firestone Tire and Rubber Company and all subsidiaries for first six months ending April 30, 1931, after deducting depreciation, interest, taxes, etc.
was $2,908,553.20. This compares with a profit of $1,541,034 for the fiscal year ending October 31, 1930.

Commenting on the foregoing announcement, E. W. BeSaw, president of the Firestone Tire & Rubber Co.
of Canada Ltd. stated, "I am happy to confirm this announcement as far as the Canadian organization is concerned. Our business has shown a substantial increase in every province of the Dominion and we believe that the next six months will show a corresponding gain."

To what extent the Firestone company's record is a sign of the time-rather than an individual achievement remains to be seen when the six morthly statements of other industrialists become available. Meanwhile there is no reason to suppose that Firestone alone has felt the improvement and the country is warranted in assuming that the report of this one manufacturer is indicative of other encouraging omens to come.

The showing of the Firestone Co.
is especially significant in that it represents, not what any one locality or group thinks about business, but rather the feeling of cities, villages and farms. The great tire companies sell their product everywhere and to every economic class. The wealthy owner of expensive cars, the owners of a fleet of delivery trucks, the owners of great bus and truck fleets—all unite to make the tire companies business good or bad as these buyers themselves feel prosperous or the reverse.

The tire companies have felt the depression more keenly than the manufacturers of other necessities, and now the first actual proof that business has quit the bottom and started the upward climb, comes from one of these big tire companies.

"STILL RISING"

A Canadian married a wife who could not bake, so he decided to make the bread himself.

He bought the flour and other neces-

the yeast.

So he rung up the grocer and asked him to send up a dollars worth of yeast.

The following afternoon his wife, who was having a nap, called down to him:
"Have you got the bread in the oven yet, Jack?"

"Oven did you say, missus?" asked the exhausted man, "why it's taking me all my time to keep it in the kit-

Bill: "It's tough when you have to pay 50cents a pound for meat."

Will: "Yes, but it's tougher when you have to pay 25 cents a pound."

News Notes

Sweet Clover hay is being cut in a great many fields at the present time.

Last Friday night the mercury went down nearly to freezing point in Edmonton during a drizzly rain there.

Every time it rains wheat prices drop a little. Looks like if we had a real rain in Alberta they wouldn't quote a price on wheat.

The Raymond Band gave an Open Air Concert on Broadway Saturday evening at 8 p.m. The crowd soon gathered and the street was nearly blocked with pedestrians and cars before the concert finished at 9 p.m.

J. Y. Card, W. G. Eennett and Morris Bennett were in Raymond Monday night for the Town for the Air Circus at Cardston on Tuesday, June 30th. They went on down to Warner, Milk River and Coult.

The International Harvester Softball team of Lethbridge clashed with the Raymond High School nine on Saturday here in a Double-Header. The first game ended 11-12 for the local Hi. squad, and they won the second 7 inning encounter 2-1. A great deal of enthusiasm and cheering featured the playing.

Dust Storms in Saskatchewan tied up the C. N. R. Trains was a heading telling of dust and sand being blown over the railway right of way to a depth of a foot and over, tying up a passenger train for one hour and a freight for two hours. Temporary fences had to be erected before the crews could shovel their way through the blowing sand. Southern Alberta isn't so bad after all.

SOMETHING TO THINK ABOUT

We hear a great deal these days about the condition of the farmer, and there is a great deal of discussion as to how matters can be helped. It seems to me that farming is like any other business. There is only one way to help business, and that is to go after it.

As a general rule, business men will work together to improve conditions, but it seems to be an awful hard job to get farmers to work together and to help each other. I speak of this in a general way because there are many thousands of farmers that do help each other, but at the same time there are many farmers who could help their business if they would give their business the proper support.

I mean this: I was in a town the other day and stepped into a grocery store. A customer had been in and left an order. Among other things he ordered a sack of cane sugar, and would not have any other kind of sugar. Also on the list were twenty four pound packages of oleomargarine. This is where the joke comes in. This farmer had cows and he was taking his cream to the creamery and also hauling cream for his neighbors and yet he would buy twenty-four one-pound packages of oleomargarine and 100 pounds of cane sugar instead of buying a sack of heel sugar.

I happened to be in another town a few days afterwards, and was telling of this circumstance to a grocery man and he said, "Why that is nothing; half of the farmers in this town that are bringing cream to the creamery, take home oleomargarine."

You know there is an old saying "God helps those who help themselves" and I believe it is true. If a man is willing to use oleomargarine and cane sugar, he should not expect any more than $4.50 for sugar beets and 15 cents for butter fat.

Suppose a farmer used 100 pounds of oleomargarine per year, his saving would only amount to $10, and it would not take very much of an advance on butter fat to more than make up this amount, many times over.

If you are using cane sugar and oleomargarine, think this over—The Sugar Beet.

AND THAT'S THAT

Doris had just become engaged to Willie. A week or 2 after the announcement had been given out she went to tea with one of her friends.

"Now, dear," said this friend, "I want to hear all about it. How did Willie propose?"

Doris blushed. "He paid me a great compliment," she replied. "He said I was the eighth wonder of the world, and that he could never live without me."

"Really?" gushed the other girl. "And what was your answer?"

"Oh, I told him I'd have him," said Doris. "But I warned him at the same time that there'd be trouble if ever I caught him with any of those other seven!"

CARE OF THE GROWING CROP ON RANGE

(Experimental Farms Note)

The success of the commercial poultry keeper may depend primarily on the "breeding" of his flocks, but the extent of that success depends largely on how that stock is reared and handled up to laying age.

Many poultry keepers who tend the chicks carefully during the brooding period do not realize the necessity for continuing this care throughout the growing period. Frequently the chicks are left in the same houses in which they were brooded with the result that they are greatly overcrowded, even after the surplus cockerels have been disposed of as broilers. Nothing is more detrimental to vigorous growth than overcrowding which invariably results in poor ventilation.

When the chicks pass brooding age the houses should be opened up to as great an extent as possible so as to assure an abundance of fresh air or as is followed at the Central Experimental Farm:

The chicks after being separated according to sex are moved onto range and placed in wire roosting stalls. These shelters are moved at regular intervals throughout the summer so that the chicks are kept continually on fresh ground, the range being covered with a splendid growth of clover. Where possible natural shade is given—a corn field is better but where this is not available, artificial shade is furnished.

Dry mash and mixed grain is supplied in hoppers as well as grit and oyster shell. An abundant supply of water is always at hand and when available milk is given. The range ration supplied is generally quite low in animal feed so as not to hasten the pullets to early maturity but the percentage is varied according to age and condition of the stock. Culling is continued throughout the summer and the pullets are put into winter quarters before the start of laying.

REVIEW OF PARLIAMENT

of thousands of unemployed and an increasing serious situation. The Montreal Star, (Cons) was quoted as declaring that thousands of unemployed were faced with the alternative of starvation or suicide.

There are evidences however that the government must retreat from some of its proposals as they are unworkable, and the Budget seems to be a mass of undigested tariffs and taxation. The five cent bonus on wheat for export has proved a complete enigma, for nobody has been able to ascertain how on earth the farmer is going to benefit; it being taken for granted that the government in promising it intends it for the farmer. Wheat is not export wheat until it leaves Canada. By that time its identity has been lost and its ownership changed. Who therefore is to get the five cents. There is also objection that it does not apply to transportation in Canada, eastern farmers declaring they could use the west's lower grades for feed if they could get it. In fact western feed grain reaches Denmark at a cheaper cost than it can get to the eastern townships, where they are bringing in grain from the Argentine at cheaper cost than they can get it from the west.
